Learning in School

Children in F2 have enjoyed reading Commotion in the Ocean as they learn about different sea creatures. There are lots of versions of these poems on YouTube if you would like to listen to them at home. Year 6 have also been working on poetry. They read The Listeners by Walter de la Mere and have written their own modern day versions. Look out for these when they publish them on the Year 6 area of the school website. In Year 1 the children have created some beautiful paintings of woodland creatures and have written some interesting information texts with lots of fascinating facts!

Keeping Children safe Online

During lockdown many children (my own included) have spent an additional time online for learning, playing and keeping in touch with others. The websites below give great advice on keeping our children safe when they are online

Update about returning to school

Last week the government announced that they intend for schools to reopen to all children in September. As yet we haven't had any further information or guidance about how this will work. As soon as we hear anything I will let you know.

We continue to have key worker children and Day care, F1 and F2, Year 1 and Year 6 children in school. Unfortunately the 1metre+ rule doesn't allow us to take in any additional year groups as we do not have additional staff to start new bubbles of children.

Usually at this time of year transition activities start to take place so that children can get to know their teacher and become familiar with classrooms and routines. We have been planning how we can best support the children's return to school within the current way we are working and I will send an email on Monday with information about this for different year groups. Please look out for it.

Learning at Home

You should still be receiving weekly activities by email or the Dojo for the children to complete at home. Get in touch if you need any help accessing these so that we can help.

This week the government have updated their list of online home educating resources that could also be helpful in finding activities that interest your child <https://www.gov.uk/government/publications/coronavirus-covid-19-online-education-resources>

They have also added some tips to support parents with home learning. Please stay in touch via the Dojo in EYFS or the Class email or you can always ring the school.
